

GIACOMO LUCATO

Violin

Giacomo Lucato, born in 1998, began to study the violin at the age of 10 years old and got his violin degree in 2017, in the class of M° Piergiorgio Rosso, at Conservatorio “G. Verdi” in Torino.

Currently, he is studying at Fondazione Santa Cecilia in Portogruaro (VE), pupil of Ilya Grubert and Eliot Lawson. Also, he has been taking private lessons for many years with Paolo Andreoli (second violin of Quartetto di Cremona).

Discovered from the early years of his education a truly passion for chamber music, he started right away to play in many different groups, like duo, piano quartet and string quartet, winning many awards in competitions and having concerts in many cities, among all Torino, Milano, Genova, Venezia and Cremona.

He was principal violin in the Conservatorio of Alessandria symphonic orchestra, working with soloists such Mario Peris and Roberto Ranfaldi.

He played in the Conservatorio “G. Verdi” symphonic orchestra under Giuseppe Ratti’s direction, and participated to a masterclass hold by the worldwide known Italian conductor Gianandrea Nosedà.

He took part in many international violin and chamber music courses, having lessons with some of the most important and famous musicians like Ilya Grubert, Eliot Lawson, Adrian Pinzaru, Ivan Rabaglia, Quartetto di Cremona, Stephan Metz, Simon Rowland Jones, Fabio Vecchi, Quartetto Lyskamm.

He joined the Camerata Ducale Junior in many occasions, also playing as one of soloists in the Concerto for four violins by Antonio Vivaldi. He was first violin of Tàlia Ensemble (string quartet), wherewith he played for “MiTo”.

In 2018 summer, he performed for Accademia di Pinerolo summer music course, Musica d’estate, playing the viola in Sitkovesky’s string trio arrangement of Bach’s Goldberg variations, together with Adrian Pianzaru and Ada Guarneri.

And more, he was asked to play in the 2018 Portogruaro International Music Festival orchestra, sharing the stage with great musicians such as Enrico Bronzi, Simone Briatore, Amiram Ganz.

He is playing on a Yael Rosemblum’s violin, made in July 2018.

@giacomolucato